In last year's extremely prophetic Oracles talk, Jeanne warned us we should not expect to recognize the 2020 world-to-be, but that in late December a way forward would begin to come into focus.

In her latest lecture for the upcoming year, Jeanne outlines:

- ▶ the progressive wave of the entire year
- ▶ the pattern of the new American Administration
- ▶ the 3-month period of compassion in an otherwise mentally focused year
- ▶ the major aspect of the year that portends the challenge of creative change without destructive revolution

This year's main disappointment is how the hacking of human consciousness continues; Jeanne offers suggestions for protection.

As she routinely does in her annual Oracles lectures, Jeanne predicts trends in politics, health, economics, and, the always popular, fashion.

Jeanne has practiced astrology since 1972 using it to analyze and project social, political, and cultural trends. She is a popular speaker appreciated for her wide ranging predictions and her ability to provide the insights she derives from her study of the stars.
